PRESS RELEASE

AGRA BRINGS ANOTHER FIRST FOR NAMIBIA

Agra can now weigh farmers' animals right on their farms! An innovative product, initiated by Agra and developed by local engineers, will complement the personal service of Agra's livestock division. This first mobile animal scale can be taken anywhere and will ease the weighing process of animals before auctions.

In September 1992 Agra was the first to install an electronic mass scale at their auction pens in Gobabis. Since then Agra has installed a total of six of electronic mass scales or assisted farmers associations to equip their auction pens with these scales.

Agra acquired the mobile scale to make it possible to weigh animals at the auction centres of Agra where there are no electronic scales, or when auctions with large amounts of animals are hosted on farms, especially in the south. "We are very excited to start using this scale which will soon be handed to George Pearson, Agra livestock coordinator in the south, for taking the service to our clients' doorsteps" said Danie Byleveld, Manager: Agra Livestock.
